About the Singapore International Foundation (SIF) was established in 1991 to further Singapore's globalisation efforts. Our mission is to build a corps of active global citizens through international volunteering and networking. Since its inception, SIF volunteers have worked with less privileged communities in areas as diverse as early childhood and maternal education, I.T. and language training, nutrition, sex awareness and public hygiene education, as well as community healthcare and rehabilitation of disadvantaged children and the disabled. We have engaged Singaporeans and friends outside Singapore in building inter-cultural tolerance and understanding of one another, and at the same time connecting overseas Singaporeans to home. From hosting visits, exchange programmes and conferences, through facilitating professional attachments and giving awards and grants to deserving Singaporeans, SIF seeks to promote our country's identity and image internationally, and to forge goodwill between nations.
